

Summit 2023

COVID Protocols/Social Contract

Required of All In-Person & Hybrid Attendees

PRIOR TO ARRIVING at the Summit:

Ill or Exposed: Do NOT attend the Summit in-person if you are currently testing positive for COVID, if you are feeling ill, or if you have had a known/confirmed COVID exposure within 5 days of arriving.

If you registered to attend in-person and cannot, we will adjust your registration to Virtual at any time or refund you in full if you notify us by Tuesday, May 9 (this is the last day for in-person and hybrid refunds due to our catering deadlines).

Vaccination/Boosters: Highly encouraged. This remains the best way to prevent illness and slow the spread.

Self-Test: Highly encouraged as close to your arrival at the Summit as possible. Testing resources can be found at <https://www.covid.gov/tests> and FREE tests for WA State residents at <https://sayyescovidhometest.org> Allow 15 minutes for results.

Masks & Hand Sanitizer: Pack them. Use them as needed. Free masks are available; visit <https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/your-health/free-masks.html>

Review the Latest Advice: CDC (<https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/index.html>); WA State Dept. of Health (<https://doh.wa.gov/emergencies/covid-19>)

DURING the Summit:

Masks: Highly encouraged in close/crowded areas inside the House (e.g. during small group discussions). Consider eating meals outside, weather permitting.

Distancing: Our seating plan will again take social distancing into consideration. Bleacher seating is highly encouraged for those willing/able so that we can spread out even further. Bring your 2022 Summit seat cushion, if you have one!

Main Room: We will promote good air circulation via fans, windows, and doors. Bring a coat, sweater, hat, gloves, and/or blanket in case it gets chilly.

Respect Different Comfort Levels: Please respect your fellow Summiters' different comfort levels, COVID and otherwise. Ask before entering others' personal bubble (e.g. handshake, hug).

Go the Extra Mile: See "respect" above. We are so excited to be together in-person again. Let's stay Safe so that this trend can continue! Stay Safe, Don't Spread.
